There's A Gold Mine in the Sky Lewain Song

Ribbon, Insignia Ted Boalch's ribbon for WWI US Navy Hat. 1.5" wide, 19" around. The band is fastened with several pieces of ribbon, to form the flat bow for the design. The ribbon is black, with USS GREAT NORTHERN printed in gold letters. The printing is faded. Embarking nearly 1,400 passengers of Puget Sound, including 500 "enemy aliens," women and children as well as men, Great Northern sailed for the U.S. East Coast on 21 January 1918, reaching New York on 8 February via the Panama Canal and Charleston, South Carolina. On 7 March, she sailed from Hoboken, New Jersey, for Brest, France with 1,500 members of the American Expeditionary Force (AEF). Great Northern returned to Hoboken on 30 March with unsold veterans. From then until August 1919, she made a total of 18 transatlantic voyages, first carrying troops to the fighting zone and then bringing home the victorious "doughboys." Great Northern decommissioned at New York on 15 August 1919 and was transferred to the U.S. Army Transportation Service the same day. Received 1978.

Bedspread

Piece of handwoven cotton bedspread white. Mrs. Carpenter said that her grandmother Susan Pulliam who lived in Kentucky made this. She plowed the ground, planted the seed, cultivated and picked the cotton, then carded and spun the thread and wove the material. Her husband was in the War of 1812 and was unable to do much because of wounds received. Hemmed sides, finished edges, one selvedge, stripe weave pattern.

Shade, Lighting
Etched glass lamp shade from early Seattle home of Parents of Otto and Dio Reinig in 1889. Margarethe and Leonard Reinig were early Seattle settlers who came to Snoqualmie to homestead after the Seattle fire in 1889. Settled on Reinig Road near confluence of three forks of Snoqualmie river. Original home still on property in Nov. 1987 and lived in by granddaughter of Dio Reinig, Mary Norton McElroy. Mother is Leslie Reinig, one of the daughters of Dio Reinig. Frosted and clear glass lamp shade. Light shade, glass, frosted lower half, clear upper half. Flares around lower opening, with pointed, scalloped all around, 5.25" diameter across scalloped opening. Upper half of shade is clear with slightly embossed scroll designs all around. Raised dots separate clear and frosted sections. 2.25" diameter across small opening, flared lip. Height 4 inches. Lamp shape used for wall fixture.

Shade, Lighting
Frosted glass lampshade, bell-shape, embossed. 4.5" high x 5" diameter at bottom. Fluted with raised stripes of clear glass full length between fluting. Thin scalloped edges around bottom. 6 fluted panels, with embossed grainy effect all over. Alternate flutes have embossed oval outlined with small dots of clear glass. Center of oval has radiant star. Lampshade was used in Leonard Reinig house, probably for gas lights.

Handwritten letter to the Editor of the Post-Intelligencer, Seattle, Washington, from John Janicke of Fall City. He is telling about the young lives lost through dreaded diphtheria. It tells how he was asked by a neighbor to come survey and lay off a grave yard according to the "cardinal" points near new school house site at the Sammamish Prairie—School district #39. Letter dated May 17, 1889. Donated by Hilda Smalley to Fall City Library, previously. Fall City, W.T. May 17th, 1889. Ed: Post Intelligencer It seems to be my lot and my painful duty to write you these sorrowful reports, it is not my intention to make more grief then already exists, but our relatives and friends at home and abroad should be notified how seriously some of our family's here in School Districts No 20 and 39 in King County have suffered. The long chain of connecting links of love, blood and affection is shattered in many fragments, the fresh take graves near the farm yards and the sacred precincts of our cemetery's tell sad story's, every family is striking with grief, the fell destroyer has robbed our school districts of many a promising young.

Poem entitled "Independence Day" was written by Elsie Green who was in the first graduating class from Fall City High School. Written in ink on lined wide tablet paper. Donated by Hilda Smalley to Fall City Library, previously.

Articles about Seattle businesses, people, poems, Limericks, and advertisements. (The Coast was a monthly magazine published from 1902 to 1910 in Seattle by Honor L. Wilhelm, lawyer, newspaperman, editor, and finally, for the greater part of his life, Presbyterian preacher. It visited cities and counties from Oregon to British Columbia and Alaska, reporting and editorializing all phases of life as it was lived then. The modern reader will find vivid pictures of the economics, politics, commercial enterprises, patriotism, and western zeal, human interest, poetry, and fiction, and finally some just plain preaching which foretold the publisher's future calling. Past reprinted issues have featured Everett, 1907, Snohomish County, 1908, and King County, 1909). Info on back of accession record.</td>

Animal, Stuffed
Acrylic plush teddy bear. 12” tall. Light brown with cream colored pads on feet. Teddy bear has black cloth nose and glass eyes, made in Taiwan. Tag on bear tells story of how the Teddy Bear got its name. In 1902 President Theodore Roosevelt was on a hunting trip in Mississippi. The presidential hunting party trailed and lassoed a lean black bear and then tied it to a tree. The president was summoned but when he arrived on the scene he refused to shoot the tied and exhausted bear considering it unsportsmanlike. This episode being introduced in the Washington Post with a front page cartoon montage drew immediate attention of the people. Storekeeper Morris Michton in New York requested and received permission from Roosevelt himself to call his stuffed toy bear “Teddy’s Bear.”

Tablecloth

Women's white blouse (waist). 1927-1930. 20 inches from neck to waist, including a 3-inch waistband at the waist. The sleeves are long with a 2 1/2 inch cuff, with a 3-inch lace and openwork, turn back cuff. The 4-inch collar extends around the neck and halfway down the front, on each side. It is made of the white material, with set-in openwork and lace. There is a 3 1/2-inch piece set in the front, made of the same fancy material. The blouse is closed by buttons on the left side of the set-in piece. The material is a white, with a self-colored stripe. There are several marked brown stains on different places on the blouse.

Dress

Tan and brown dress, c 1920s. Light and dark brown chiffon dress. 50" from back neck to point at skirt edge. 10 1/2" draped collar, with a 3 1/2" trim of the dark brown. The dress is of the style of the 20s, the lower edge is uneven points (handkerchief?). The collar ties in the front and there is about a 7" side placket, fastened with snap. About halfway down the skirt are large, dark brown, diamond insets. At the points of each diamond are clusters of gold-colored sequins. The dress is lined with rayon in a light, rosy-colored brown. There are several places where the chiffon is torn, and numerous stains over much of the dress.

Purse

Off-white woven drawstring purse.

Apron

Print popover apron with adjustable back. Cotton, white background with blue flowers. 35 1/2" from shoulder to lower edge. The apron is a praire style, over the shoulder style that ties on the back. There is a panel that fastens by the shoulder straps that have bound holes, that the ties go through. There are ruffles of the same material on the shoulder straps. The edges are bound with a blue bias tape, with three rows of tape for trim, near the bottom. On the front of the apron is a design made from the blue tape, narrow, that forms a criss cross pattern with a bow below. The bow is sewn to the apron, made from the tape. There is a pocket on the right hand side. The material is faded, and some of the bias tape trim has been re-sewn by hand.

Tablecloth

Printed runner with fruit design.

Runner, Table

Linene runner with crochet edge. 10 1/2" x 54 1/2" long, including the trim on the ends. The scarf is made of white linen. At each end is a trim made with crochet and an edge. The sides have a slenderness edge. There is a black stain on the end of the scarf.

Drum
Toy Drum and leather belt, Civil War Period A. Drum, wooden, 9 1/2" dia., painted trim on outside in red, white, and blue. Stripes in red and white are vertical, and alternate with star design, and small American flag. Flag on black pole, is partly unfurled and on left side of pole. Drum and 2 red hoops are nailed together separately, with hemp rope interwoven through holes in hoops in top and bottom hoops. Rope held together with leather strips tied with sawtooth design. Strips 7 x 2" have ends cut in sawtooth design. Drum is natural wood color with painted design. Drum 7 1/4" wide. B. Leather belt used with drum. Civil War period. 27" long with 8" strap attached on one end, with holes for buckle, attached to other end of belt. Double thickness leather, with black on outside and red leather inside and covering edges all around. Note: Mrs. Stanton's father beat this drum as the soldiers marched by, while he sat on his porch. <td>Beaded Puzzle Pouch. Nez Perce Indian. 4&quot; high x 3&quot; wide. From original description, &quot;It is made in the shape of a small bag. The top of the bag does not open, has 2 flaps, one on each side, and there is a closed fring of the deerskinning at the top. The bag is made of deerskinning, and beaded on both sides, and at the edges of the flaps. Each side has a different design, and the beads are blue, red, green, etc. Some of the beads have come off, and the leather is worn. Further research at time of digitization of record determined that it is a puzzle pouch, usually made by Great Lakes and Woodlands area tribes of the Northeast. The pouch is a game or puzzle artifact, and the game is either to have people figure out how to open the pouch or to guess what small object is inside. <td>Celluloid envelope of beauty patch materials, jeweler's advertising gift. Give away in two pieces. Envelope with patch materials inside. The celluloid outer part advertises Hamilton Watch, the Railroad Timekeeper of America, Lancaster, PA. On the back is a picture of the Home of the Hamilton Watch Co. The envelope is ecru with black printing. On the inside is a removable slide with the patch materials attached. Underneath is the flesh colored material applied first, and then on top is the black material which was cut smaller and applied on top of the flesh colored material. Ladies of Marie Antoinette's time and our own ladies of Colonial days used these to cover blemishes. New in 1911, 2.25 x 1.25'. Some use, most material still intact. Note with packet: A tiny blemish on the face was covered with a piece of the flesh colored silk, cut exactly to size, and the back cut to a wise circle or even a star, was a &quot;beauty mark&quot; heightened, by contrast, a lovely, fair complexion. Advertising give a way to the jeweler or watch repairman who sold Hamilton watches.</td>

1883 (SOON AFTER HARRY'S MARRIAGE, JUNE, 1882) Portland, Oregon April 16th Dear Father: About receiving letter from his father recently telling news of brother and sisters . . . his working in a saw-mill in this city, and great numbers of Chinamen working on Pacific Coast . . . about Washington Territory, its mountains, timber, & good lands in valley & difficulty in reaching them due to lack of roads . . . asking for photographs of his father and losing his own when moving from Iowa to New Mexico . . . last news from Bob was 4 years ago in Illinois & needing money, which John sent 40 dollars . . . John's memories of old home in England & road between Hinton and Durford, asks for more letters from father and his pleasure in hearing from Henry and Charles. Signed, Your affectionate son, John Lofts (One page typewritten letter, copy of handwritten letter sent to relatives in England, about his work on Pacific Coast and many Chinamen on Coast - some description of government lands in)

A COPY OF JOHN LOFTS LETTER WRITTEN MARCH 22/91 FROM NORTH BEND, U.S.A., AMERICA: Dear Brother: Writing again after 8 years . . . has given up hopes of ever going back to England and taken a claim (Gov't), not yet surveyed, about 12 miles or more from a settlement on bank of a river with its sources in Cascade Mts. . . . 12 or 15 single men live in area and access is over rough road, one day's walk to reach claim. Provisions packed in on back or Indian pony . . . crossing river in hand-hewn canoe from a cedar log. Foresees emigration to Valley in future years. Does not write home due to Unsuccessful feeling in his ventures in America. Signed, Your affectionate brother, John Lofts (Gives address as: Seattle, King Co Washington, U.S., America) (John Lofts gave land for school in early town of Snoqualmie, Wn.)
| A | 275.028 | Snoqualmie Valley Historical Museum Special Collection Archives | Letter | John Lofts Letters. Fourth letter in collection of letters written by John Lofts to relatives in England. THIS LETTER FROM SISTER SUEY, Fitzroy Square, London, England. COPY OF SUEY'S LETTER TO JOHN LOFTS, APRIL 21ST, 1891 Dear John: Family had lost trace of John for years and search for news of him in various ways. Family news of aunt's death and leaving John inheritance to be claimed. News of family members and their work and activities...memory of day when father took the 2 girls to do some shopping at a dress shop just opposite the Pitt Press, to meet John after work. After a lengthy wait, they went home to find a letter from John saying "he was on his way to America"...and their shock...but he is welcome to return home at any time, in spite of his feeling unsuccessful. John Lofts Letters. Sixth letter in collection of letters written by John Lofts relating experiences of homesteading a claim in a small valley in Cascade foothills & "pioneering" Year 1888. John Lofts and several men penetrated into one of the small valleys in Cascade foothills, crossing Snoqualmie River by a dugout canoe; 2 young boys, Indian Half-breeds, rented their canoe & charged $20 for their services in guiding the men to the valley & making tentative survey for claims; section and township uncertain but squatters rights established & trip made to N. Bend (14 miles away) for tools and food. Built cabin of posts, split cedar boards & shakes with hole in roof with fireplace of 4 logs square filled with dirt. Experiences with woodrats, skunks, etc., in cabin. Later moved to another cabin further down river & clear plot for garden for potatoes. 14 miles by trail for any other supplies, back-pacing; acquired small dog. 2nd YEAR, spent winter in N. Bend & summer clearing an acre of ground planted fruit trees. 3rd YEAR, abandoned 1st cabin & moved into wider part of valley, cleared & burned

John Lofts Letters. Seventh letter in collection of letters written by John Lofts relating experiences in Little White Salmon to cut cordwood. AFTER "APRIL 16TH", "END OF AUGUST, 1883. Boarded boat at Portland for Little White Salmon to cut cordwood for above company, a new experience being a woodsman; transferred to narrow-gauge portage road at the Cascades, riding in cars for 6 miles on north bank to smoother water above; steamboat to Little White Salmon; his partnership with 2 Indiana men in camp; learning which tree, or kind of tree, to cut to burn right; reading books by a candle after a hard day's work. Pay of $300 for 7 months work in woods. Boat trip back down the Columbia River and Willamette River to Portland; meeting friendly strangers in Portland and having necessary surgical care for hand bruised due to hammering on wedges. 2-page letter. O 288.004 Snoqualmie Valley Historical Museum Permanent Collection Bottle

Bottle, 7 1/2” tall, 2” diameter across the bottom. ARNAS printed on the bottom. The note that came with the bottle from Billie Reeves Crouch: This old bottle was dug up by me, in 1968, at Easton, Wash. It is a three piece mold with an applied top. The uniqueness of this bottle is that it was made over a hand whittled wooden mold. Held to a light, the whittle marks show. Probably dates about year 1890-95.

O 288.005 Snoqualmie Valley Historical Museum Permanent Collection Roller

Rollers for a wash board A, B, C, D, 10 1/2” long, 3/4” diameter. The rollers are made of wood, cut in a spiral shape. Each roller has a metal pin extending from each end. These are inserted into the frame of the washboard so that the rollers would turn when in use. The note with these from Billie Reeves Crouch “I found these hardwood rollers in Missouri in 1948. They came from one of the first wash boards made. As clothes were rubbed on these wash boards, these rollers rolled.”

The curtain around the mountain was painted later by WPA (Works Progress Administration) artists. The back of this curtain is covered with the names of hundreds of student's signatures. Removed from Snoqualmie High when it was torn down about 1973. Someone noticed that they were tearing the old school down and workers were walking on the curtain. George Swenson left work and went over to the school and rescued his brother's painting. The curtain later was hung at Snoqualmie Winery by George Swenson and his nephew Dave Battey for public display. Stewart Swenson passed away on March 17, 1991, at age 81. After George Swenson passed away, the Winery was closing, so the staff called the Museum and talked with Greg Watson. He and Dave Battey went up and un-hung the curtain from the back room at the Winery.
Coat

Silk baby's coat. Baby's coat in an off-white, may have been a light blue at one time. Lined with fine white cotton and interlined with cotton flannel material. Outer coat is smocked with blue thread in front with single line of smocking around the yoke. Round collar is also trimmed with blue embroidery. Yoke is piped with material and trimmed with two buttons. The coat closes by means of two snaps half of one snap is missing. These are located under the yoke. Hem is put in by hand.

Shade, Lighting

Three sides sewed open one end.

Whistle

Whistle bug used to blow whistle to communicate with loggers. 4.3/4"x2.5" half round, wooden handles, each handle is mortised into piece of strap iron that extends 2" on each side and encloses 1.75" x 1.25" x 1" block of wood. There are wing nut bolts on each side. There is a piece missing but the handles evidently were squeezed together to make the whistle blow. The whistle was used in logging in the 1920s to the 1940s to signal from the whistle punk to the donkey engineer. Before the whistle bug came into action they used the "Jerk Wire" system. Long wires strung through the woods connected to the donkey whistle. The loggers would jerk on the wires and signal the engineer by whistle.

The expression on the face is a cute smile, the eyes looking to one side, and the nose is small. It is made of a light brown, hard material. b. Small, woven basket, oval shape with a handle. The basket is fan with a stripe around the center of the basket. The stripes are a red and a green. There is a bouquet of artificial flowers in the basket. c. Dress. Peach color, stiff peach flannel. The skirt edge and the sleeve edge are a fringe, made of the material that has been cut in 1/2" wide, by 3/4" strips. The front of the dress has a fringed overlay, with an Indian design painted on the material. d. & e. Moccasins. They are made of a light weight, leather like material. The main part is a light brown, and the instep is made of red material. The Indian was sold to the donor by a Native Indian Girl.

Basket Indian Basket with a Handle Rectangle shape: 9" x 7" x 6" The main part of the basket is made of strips of split wood, part of it is 1/2" wide, woven with narrower 1/8" strips. There are five strips of narrow basket reeds, 3 in each row. The colors are oranges and greens and red and black. The double handle is woven to the top of the basket, extending to an 18" handle that is trimmed with the color.

Necklace Dentalium shell & blue glass bead necklace. The necklace has two strands, one is 30" long and the other is 26" long. Each strand is made of alternating dentalium shells and glass beads. There are two shells approximately 1" long between a series of beads, 2 blue with a gold bead, and then 2 more blue. The beads are strung on a double strand of string. They are tied at the back neckline, and there is a round clip, as a clip on earings fastened over the knots.

Necklace: Single strand, blue glass beads and white shell beads. 33" long. The blue beads are small circles, they are strung in length about 2" alternating with groups of the white shell beads. There are 3 round, gold beads. The majority of the necklace is of the white beads. The shell beads are cur in 1/8" wide, round bead with a large hole in the center.

Necklace: Bead and Dentalium Shell. 24" long. The dentalium shells are about 1" long, 2 shells strung between 5 green beads. The alternating beads and shells continue about 2/3 of the necklace and the balance is a double strand of the shells. They are strung on a black thread.
