Glass cigarette case, two piece. Late 1940s. Cavalier. King Size printed in red on front of cover. Top cover slips over bottom of box. 3 x 2.375 x 1. American version of Cavalier cigarettes were produced by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco. March 4, 1949: RJR Manufactures King-Sized Cigarette. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company announced in the Winston-Salem Journal that the company has begun manufacturing a “king-size” cigarette, named Cavalier. The cigarette will be available for purchase the following week in Winston-Salem, and in certain test markets. However, all RJR employees received a complimentary pack of the cigarettes on March 3rd. The company poured many advertising dollars into the new product, and some imagination as well. A notable promotion was called the “Cavalcades” which were parades in which salesmen dressed as seventeenth-century cavaliers, and pretty young women rode in cars decorated with the red and white colors of the Cavalier package. Loud speakers and horns accompanied their presentation of the first carton of Cavalcades to the mayor of a test market.

Shoe
ADY’S BLACK SUEDE PUMPS A Right foot B Left foot Size 8 1/2 AAA 3 1/2” heel. The shoes are a black suede with a lining, part of leather and part of cloth. The heels are a narrow 3/4” across the top; the sole is a black leather. The right shoes has Quall Craft. The inner sole is made of a gross grain material. The style is a pump, low cut at the instep, and they have a round toe.
Hook, Rug

Two rug hooking needles on card. Third rug hooking needle with strip of fabric. The hook is made of two pieces of wood that are fastened together with metal bands. The bands are made so that the pieces slide in order to push the needle through the material. The yarn is carried through the material with the needles. This is mounted on one side, the other side has a piece of metal that keeps the yarn at the right length. There is a screw eye on the side with the needles. This keeps the side from sliding too far, by hitting one of the metal bands. B. Extra needle. 1 5/8” long. C. Extra needle. 2 1/4” long. The needles are made like pen points. There are interchangeable in the handle of the rug hook.

Cauldron
Iron cooking pot. Three legs, wire ball handle, reg on one side. 9” tall and 10.25” diameter x 8.5” deep. Originally from Ohio brought by Lophronia Stahl who was married to Conrad Gepfert, a German who came to the US as a teenager. The pot was taken to Nebraska by wagon train where they stayed in a sod house near Lincoln while they built their house. They sold out in 1888 after the financial panic and came by train to Portland and by boat to Seattle, not long after the Seattle fire. They built their home in Seattle on Boylston and Roy and established a hardware and Fischer body carriage business on the waterfront. Conrad and his son Morgan joined the Alaska gold rush. Conrad was killed in the Chilkoot Slide. Morgan stayed in Nome rooming with Jack London. Neither struck it rich. Lophronia lived in the family home with her two daughters and boarded female school teachers. Glennette Hill remembers the old black pot on the old kitchen stove always bubbling with such good food.

Chain, Watch
Watch chain and two cougar claws belonging to Samuel Warren Flint. Claws came from cougar killed by Samuel Flint (now known as Monte Vista Farm when owned by the Sawer and Bailey family). His wife Nancy Ann Music Flint went to their chicken house and found the cougar there. She ran back to the house and Samuel instead of grabbing his gun in his excitement grabbed a club and killed the cougar with it. One claw was made into the watch chain belonging to Samuel’s son from his first wife.

<td>Slide projector donated to Snoqualmie United Methodist Church (likely so long ago that it was donated when still called the Community Methodist Church). Offered by another local congregation to the church when they no longer had a use for it. Seems WWII era with khaki built holding metal cover on case. Has bellows and 500 watt Mazda projection lamp and Bausch and Lomb lens system. Donated with projector are about 480 3&quot; x 4&quot; glass slides with biblical scenes.</td>

Blanket
Pendleton People of the Moon blanket given to donor who wishes to remain anonymous while he was Mayor of Snoqualmie. The blanket says "People of the Moon. Snoqualmie means People of the Moon. The central image of this blanket design is a moon image that represents and honors the gaze of our ancestors who are constantly watching. It is bordered by an abstract image of the salmon, an important cultural and spiritual resource for the Snoqualmie People, and an artistic image of the four types of canoe paddles oriented in the four directions. These artistic images are repeated five times to honor the five major families that make up the Snoqualmie Indian Tribe."

0 951.825 Snoqualmie Valley Historical Museum Permanent Collection Horsehoe Box of horseshoes caulks. Horseshoe studs are metal "caulks" that are driven into the bottom of the horse's shoe to provide traction. They are helpful for riding activities that require your horse to turn or jump quickly from a slick or muddy surface, such as foxhunting, cross-country jumping or steeplechasing. Horseshoe studs can allow your horse to turn, gallop and jump with balance and confidence.

<td>Button, Campaign Taft election campaign button. Playing on his size, William Talf reluctantly won the 1908 Presidential election with the campaign slogan “America’s Fattest President.” Running against the reformist Bryan, Taft supporters campaigned with sayings like “Which Do You Prefer? Bryan and Bones or Taft and Turkey?” --- It's Up to You... Taft and Sherman are Good Enough for Me.” Taft came to Washington State in the summer of 1909 to help support the promoters of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in Seattle. At precisely 12:30 on June 1, 1909, AYPE President J.E. Chilberg pressed a key to notify President Taft that the fair was ready to open. In Washington, D.C., Taft responded by pressing a golden key to officially open the Exposition. On September 30, 1909, President William Howard Taft attended the AYPE. He visited many of the exhibits and delivered two speeches. Taft Day was attended by 60,953 people, making it one of the most popular days of the fair. It is highly likely many people from the Valley attended this day. He returned to the fair briefly on October 1.</td>

<td>Letter Opener, Letter Mount St Helen's souvenir letter opener. Mount St. Helens is notorious for its catastrophic eruption on May 18, 1980, at 8:32 a.m. PDT, the deadliest and most economically destructive volcanic event in the history of the United States. Fifty-seven people were killed, 250 homes, 47 bridges, 15 miles (24 km) of railways, and 185 miles (298 km) of highway were destroyed. A massive debris avalanche triggered by an earthquake measuring 5.1 on the Richter scale caused an eruption that reduced the elevation of the mountain's summit from 9,677 ft (2,950 m) to 8,363 ft (2,549 m), replacing it with a 1 mile (1.6 km) wide horseshoe-shaped crater. The eruption triggered a booming tourism business especially in the 1980s and 1990s of the sale of eruption related souvenirs like this one. It was very common to find these sorts of items throughout the Valley and state tourist shops.</td>

<td>Pin, Promotional Alaska Yukon Pacific exposition centennial pin. Reproduction of 1909 version. In 2009 King County 4Culture encouraged all Museums in the county to do an exhibit or event surrounding the anniversary of the AYPE. This pin was given to the Museum by Eric Taylor from 4Culture as part of those activities. The Museum had an exhibit on 1909 that incorporated the AYPE and the transcontinental car race that came over Snoqualmie Pass.</td>

Pestle, Food
Snoqualmie Tribe Pestle. Found in 1900 by donor's family. They homesteaded in area. Belonged to donor's aunt Helen Sage who had inherited it. She and her husband Charles Sage lived at the corner of Fir Street in Snoqualmie. He worked at the Weaverhouse Mill. They lived there from 1899 to 1945. They then moved to Carnation. The artifact came to donor after his aunt's death.

A 1095.001 Snoqualmie Valley Historical Museum Special Collection Archives Letter Copy of a letter from Ewell Foster to Melvin Foster in 1964 talking about family time in the Snoqualmie Valley. After travels...we lived in Seattle for a while then moved to North Bend. He sold the team to the Snoqualmie Hop Ranch which was three miles from North Bend. there was twelvhundred acres in hops there and employed 500 to six hundred. Hop pickers, paid a $1.00 per box. one had to keep moveing to pick two boxes a day. my mother done lots of cooking; hotels, Shortorder, all kinds. she was an expert on cooking. She never weighed over 107 pounds where she got her strength I'll never know in my mother's and father's family seven boys, one girl. Vida Foster. I don't think you ever meet her. I have a snap picture of her I'll enclose after. She was married there was eight all to gather in our family. Just two left Floyd of Alberta and myself... 1,964 1,964 1964 T.

Taken from near edge of pool at bottom of Falls. People on rocks in foreground. Large rock seen jutting out of ledge in top center of falls. According to Dio Reinig, "The Man Who Parachuted Over the Falls Charlie Anderson was the name of the man who jumped with a parachute over the canyon of Snoqualmie Falls in the year 1890. Charlie lived in Seattle with his parents, and was full of adventure. I would say he was in his late 20's at this time. On a Sunday he would go up in a balloon over Lake Washington and jump out with his parachute. For a publicity stunt. The Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern railroad that ran from Seattle to North Bend often ran excursion trains in the summertime to Snoqualmie Falls. For the entertainment of these tourists Charlie decided to jump over the falls with his chute. This would be of great interest to the railroad and they were all for it. It was advertised in advance in the Seattle papers, but Summit of Snoqualmie Pass, Washington. US Highway 10, a modern four lane highway, affords travelers an easy year round scenic route between the Puget Sound area and the East. Mt. Snoqualmie (Elevation 6270) and Guy Peak are seen in the background. Here is one of Washington's most popular ski and recreation areas. Distributed only by Smith-Western Co, Inc., Tacoma-Portland.

Dry Falls- A Geological Wonder. Torrents of glacial water during the Ice Ages eroded about 40 cubic miles of rock out of the lava plateau which forms much of Eastern Washington to make the Grand Coulee, a canyon 50 miles long, from 2 to 5 miles wide and 400 to 800 feet deep. This view looks across at the 400 foot high cliffs over which glacial flood waters poured during that time in the world's greatest waterfall. Distributed only by Smith-Western Co, Inc., Tacoma-Portland.

Maloney's Grove, South Fork, Snoqualmie River, Section 15 Township 22 N Range 9 E Willamette Meridian. Gainer. Office of Engineer Thomas D Hunt, Engineer. The banks of South Fork of Snoqualmie River are very low. In fact, this river is constantly changing its channel. At this place, Mr Peter Maloney has invested several thousand dollars for an auto camp and tourist grounds and all of his profits from the operation of the park is eaten up from river damage. This panorama is made of two 5" images glued together. Mounted on heavy cardboard with edges taped. 1,933 1,933 21-Feb-33 Snoqualmie River Rivers Floods 1930s Scenery North Bend Maloney's Grove T.
Here is beginning of new channel change. Down stream from this picture, the river makes a very sharp change to the left and the river will flow about under Totten's Farm as indicated in the picture, hereby cutting off about one mile of channel. Across the river from Nelson farm, center of right hand section on hill. This panorama is made of two 5" images glued together. Mounted on heavy cardboard with edges taped.

George Morton's at steel bridge south of Fall City before the banks were riprapped. Next to Lee Parker property on Section 22, Hammond Turple. At times of high water, the water surface is about one foot below the window sill of this house. This shows Morton's tennis court covered with a sand gravel bar. His place has been practically ruined and at times of high water a boat, rubber boots or diving suit are the most necessary features of his camp. This panorama is made of three 5" images glued together. Mounted on heavy cardboard with edges taped.

Here is a start of the largest channel change on the Snoqualmie River. The roots projecting from a hole in the very center of the picture are those of a four foot hemlock tree over two hundred feet in length. You cannot see the branches or but very little of the tree trunk coming to the length and depth of this hole. The ground as indicated by the standing water at the left end of the picture is considerably lower than the banks of the river. Much debris has been piled up on the river protection to right center in this picture. $35,000 worth of choice bulbs and nearly all top soil of over forty acres of this farm has been washed away. In the left lower corner of the picture are some of the bulbs. Immense quantities of debris has been deposited as indicated in the left center of the picture. This large log shown is over four feet in diameter. If this farm is not protected the channel will change for a length of six miles and necessitate the building of two bridges and several thousand feet of new H E.

The top soil as shown in this picture has been partly washed away and considerable debris has been deposited on what was formerly a very fertile piece of ground. As far as production is concerned, this ground has been ruined. This panorama is made of two 5" images glued together. This overflow was caused by the big slide of February 26, 1932. Here the Snoqualmie might change channel for a distance of about three miles and make necessary a second bridge in addition to the one shown on the left center. Four farms in this vicinity are now damaged to extent of thousands of dollars. This panorama is made of two 5" images glued together. Print, Photographic Panorama. Brown Farm, Tolt River. Section 22, Township 25, N Range 7 EWM. Gainer. Office of Engineer Thomas D Hunt, Engineer. The river at this place formerly flowed next to the three high cottonwood trees as shown on the right end of the picture. The Brown farm formerly extended across to this place and all this land which has been washed away was formerly very choice farm lands. The banks as shown at this place are the highest anywhere on the Tolt River and downstream from this farm the Tolt River threatens to flow through the town of Tolt by way of an old channel which is now dry. This is the most dangerous place to our notion of any place in the Snoqualmie Watershed. This panorama is made of three 5" images glued together. Mounted on heavy cardboard with edges taped. 1,933 1,933 21-Feb-33 Tolt River, Rivers, Floods 1930s Scenery T.

Print, Photographic Panorama. South End of Carnation Farm, Snoqualmie River. Section 9, Township 25, N Range 7 EWM. Gainer Office of Engineer Thomas D Hunt, Engineer. At this place, the Snoqualmie River is threatening a new channel change as evidenced by the large damage to the farm which is caused by the ground being lower on the left center. Standing water is visible at the left end of the picture and from here to the river can be seen the deposit of sand and gravel. This field of about eighty acres of some of the best of the Carnation Farm land has been about half ruined. This panorama is made of four 5" images glued together. Mounted on heavy cardboard with edges taped. 1,933 1,933 21-Feb-33 Snoqualmie River, Rivers, Floods 1930s Scenery Farms Carnation Farms, Carnation, Washington T.
Snoqualmie River at Stickney Farm makes a sharp turn to the right and causes this place to be continually flooded at times of high water. The ground on the left of this picture is lower than the banks of the river. This farmer has been fighting flood damage for years and it must be disheartening to have to repair damages such as pictured as many as three times in one year. This panorama is made of four 5" images glued together. Mounted on heavy cardboard with edges taped. 1933

Kate Borst christening the boat "Snoqualmie" in Seattle. In August 1919, the Puget Sound Bridge & Dredging Company launched the steamer "Snoqualmie" at its Seattle shipyard on Harbor Island. The vessel was named for the Snoqualmie Tribe, in honor of its friendship with pioneer settlers and its war record in service to the United States. Many Snoqualmie Tribe members traveled to Seattle and took part in the launching ceremonies. This photo, taken August 11, 1919, shows Kate Borst, of the Snoqualmie people, christening the steamer "Snoqualmie" by breaking a bottle of champagne against the bow. Kate Borst wears white blouse, white brim straw hat, dark skirt. She holds bouquet of flowers in left hand and breaks bottle against ship. Four men and one woman in background. Scaffolding behind them.

Half-Way House. One the Middle Fork of the Snoqualmie River. Homestead of Abraham May. House built in 1896. He sold to Joe Lenz and in 1947 it was still owned by his wife. Abraham May was the father of Eva May Offield. Abraham May came with his parents across the plains to Oregon in 1854. He married, lived in Coquille. Settlers had to pack in. Moved to Waterville, Wash. Then moved to North Bend. He built a house where Glazer's lived and which was torn down in 1947. His son Fred May had a house next to him. His daughter Olive May (Mrs. William Wilson) lived in present Fuller home which her husband built. Olive was married at homestead. Mr. May traded Glazer property for Stillson Farm, now owned by Hawks in 1946. Abraham died here when he was 83 1/2 years old in 1913. His wife who was 6 years younger passed away in 1919 at the same age. Mr. and Mrs. May had 14 children. Mrs. Eva Offield, child of Mr. and Mrs. Abe May was raised in Coquille, Oregon. She was married to Mr. Offield at Roseburg, Oregon. From there went to Waterville, Ellensburg, then to North Bend. They had a large family, several houses were built.

Dynamite the horse in front. Homestead of Abram May. House of hewn log, 1 1/2 story with chinking between logs. Two, four pane windows on right in front. Roofed porch left half of front. There is a horse standing in front of split rail fence that has a picket stake fence. Original homestead of Abraham May.

Print, Photographic Wrecked bridge over Snoqualmie River above Falls. River with bridge extending across. Left part of bridge steel top and railings in river instead of attached to concrete supports. Before flood, Bridge fallen into river. Hit by tanker, caught fire and burned end pins out. Before replacement flood washed it down stream so was replaced with different bridge. The Fall City Bridge later I think was replaced by another wooden one then in 1916 or 1917 the present concrete one was built. The bridge built in 1887 was the first at Fall City. This picture is of the Bridge at Falls that burned with a truck seen in water.
Pike's Garage. First garage in North Bend. Run by John Taylor Pike. Located on N Bendigo St west side of street on corner. Man in work clothes and cap stands in open garage door that reads PIKE'S GARAGE. Large windows on each side of garage door. Oil barrel lies on side in front. Gas pump beside board walk. Against garage door is faucet with wash tub under. The garage could store 14 small cars. The small gas pump at the edge of board walk, looks more like a tire pump. The pump pumped one quart at a time so we had to count to make a gallon. The building is Smith's Store, storeroom and part of the store. We were in this garage until 1917, then we bought 2 lots from John Taylor and 1 from Fred Damburat and Herb Johnson and his father constructed, the garage now, know as the North Bend garage. - Bertha Pike Jarvis

Damburat's pack horses. Two men on horseback wearing broad rimmed hats are herding a group of horses down the dirt road. Near the riders are a couple of horses with pack sack on their back and a mare with her colt. A white horse with dark mane is in the lead. On left side behind rail fence is large barn. Fence on right of road. Fred Damburat, father of Mrs. Mabel Thompson, teacher in North Bend Grade school. Homesteaded by Cedar Lake, Cedar Falls, later renamed Chester Morris Lake.

Pike's Garage. 1917 to 1920. Man at gas pump filling car in doorway of garage. Car door is open and men standing around it. Across top of garage on left reads GOOD YEAR SERVICE STATION, PIKE'S GARAGE, MACHINE WORK ACETYLENE WELDING, GOOD YEAR TIRE, and FREE AIR VULCANIZING AND GENERAL REPAIRING. This building is the North Bend Garage in 1944. In North Bend on N Bendigo st half a block north of first st. Fred Lewis Ford in 1966.

Providence Spring in the Prison Stockade at Andersonville, GA. Just as it was during the war. Charlie Louette, Mrs Graul’s father. Some Civil War veterans, who survived after being held in Andersonville Prison, at the scene in later years. During the Civil War one of the “hell holes” was the Andersonville, Georgia Stockade for Union Prisoners. They were without proper shelter, food and water. One day there was a terrific thunderstorm and a spring gushed forth within the compound causing great relief and joy. Because they felt it was an act of God the men named it “Providence Spring”. Many men grouped around stump and spring, a few women. Men wear hats, one has a camera. Large stump in foreground.

| PO.093.0001 | Snoqualmie Valley Historical Museum Photograph Collection | Print, Photographic | Holding down a Homestead in Washington. Sedro-Woolley, WA. 1897. The picture is of a one room cabin, built in a clearing in the forest. It is unpainted lumber, and shake shingles. The chimney is made of wood. There is a ladder leaning against a stump. There is a man, sitting on a stump, playing violin. "The Homeeaders". Shake cabin on new homestead. If eloquence, whimsey, documentation, & technical excellence have ever been combined in one photograph, perhaps the homestead fiddler qualifies. Dated 1897 from the nearly obliterated penciling on the emulsion; "D. R. Kinsey, photog, Sedro-Woolley, WH. No. 102". From pages 94-97, Vol I "The Family Album & other early work". Crew with "logging donkey" on hillside overlooking river and farm land. Crew of seven men. There is a pond of water behind them, and a stack of wood beside the "donkey". The cables can be seen that pull the logs. One of the men is standing along side, and holding a long saw. The "Donkey Engine" is on a platform, with log skills. There is a roof over the top, and the smoke stack extends above the roof.

Snapshot
The Cedar Falls - 1914 The Cedar Falls in back of powerhouse. It shows the water cascading through the crevice in the rocks, and the water falling into the pool below. Tall timber is on the hillside on each side of the Falls. Water curves around a large rock at the brink of the Falls.

Snapshot
Cedar Falls Depot and electric sign with two girls on walk. Electric sign erected in 1912. The picture shows the railroad depot next to the different heights of the roof. The front is a hip roof, that covers the "car port" style at the end of the building. There are windows along the sides of the buildings. There is a large electric sign at the building. The letters are open reading "SEATTLE America's Best Lighted City. Mike" Wide station platform on left of building, 2 small girls in coats, skirts, and hats walking on platform. Power pole on end of station with single light bulb on curved pole beside it. Heavy timber in hillside in back.

Snapshot

Excursion from Everett at North Bend, Wash., Apr. 24, 1912. Milwaukee R.R. five passenger cars in photo. Grassy area in foreground. Some windows open in cars. People milling about with white cards in their hats or fronts. All men wearing suits, long coats, hats, shirts and ties. This was known as the “Get Acquainted Excursion” and was put together by the Everett and Snohomish Commercial Clubs in an effort to have all of the towns along the new Milwaukee branch line get to know each other. It was a strictly stag affair (all men only) and was run on April 24th 1912, just three days after passenger service was inaugurated on the line. On the return trip the train stopped at Tokul siding to serve lunch to the crowd and most of them hiked the trail to see Snoqualmie Falls while the train waited.

North Bend looking north from Northern Pacific Railroad tracks in back of Maloney's Livery on left. Early Bendigo St. Scene, North Bend, WA. The scene is looking north from Northern Pacific Railroad tracks, in back of Maloney's Livery, on the left, and in back of Taylor's Gen. Miller Store on the right. There is a covered buggy in the street, by the livery, and the Cascadia Hotel is across from the livery. The street is dirt and the deep wagon tracks can be seen. Stone with false fronts can be seen on the right of the street, and homes on each side.

North Bend at the NE corner of Main St and 1st Ave. Woodmen Hall next to Mueller Home. The picture is of early 1st Ave looking east at the corner of Ballarat St., turning right. The woodmen Hall & R. C. Mueller home is at the end of 1st Ave. Looking East. The road had to turn to go around them. There is an orchard in the foreground, this is where the Texaco Station was later built. There is a building in the lower left of the picture, and another on the other side of the orchard. The mountains toward Snoqualmie Pass can be seen in the background.

Cascadia Hotel and Store built 1889. The hotel was located on North Bendigo St. on the northwest corner, and west end of 1st Ave. before the change in the Sunset Highway. The North Pacific Railroad Bridge is in the distance at the left. The hotel is a two story "L" shape building. There was a General Merchandise Store on the first floor of the "L" facing the street. There is a balcony above the sidewalk, with a door and windows of the upper level. The balcony continues around the "L" of the rest of the building. There is a team of horses in front of the hotel. There are two buildings, with false fronts, across the street from the hotel. Next to them is a garden spot, with a picket fence around it.

First School and Church in North Bend. The picture is an aerial photo of the town of North Bend, Wash. and Mt. Si. The North Bend Baptist Church can be seen. It has a bell tower with a pointed steeple. The schoolhouse is next to the Church. Other homes can be seen at the left, and nearer to the camera.

Kinsey Hotel Lucile and Kinsey Brother's Market, AF Kinsey and Co Drugs, Groceries and Meats. Was in Snoqualmie where Stam Shoe store was in 1971 later the Railroad Cafe on the Corner of Railroad Ave and River St. Store faced Railroad Ave, hotel was in back of store and faced Falls Ave on NW corner of Falls Ave and River St. There were three brothers that worked together, Alfred F, Clark and Darius. This is the second Kinsey hotel enterprise in Snoqualmie. The first was erected in the 1890's by Edmund Kinsey. He died. Later, that hotel burned. This "Hotel Lucile" is a successor built by his son, my Great Uncle Alfred, I understand on different property. Large long store which faced west corner of Railroad Ave and River St. Market on left with false front and Kinsey Brothers Market painted on front. Small cornice at top edge has scalloped shingles and fan shaped decoration cutouts at inside corners. Higher two-story false front at right has same kind of narrow cornice and fan shape cut outs at inside corners. Name of store painted on front at second story.

Print, Photographic: C Beadon Hall Christmas Card, 1970. Dear Folks: Rather than showing an unusual (for Washington) snow scene this year of 1970 we have for you two hardy Washington flowers; the dogwood and rhododendron. Eda is still at the Issaquah Villa, is pretty well except for her extreme thinness. They are real good to her and either Dee Dee or we are down there most every day and take her for rides in her wheelchair to help a little maybe. Charles and Deeds are spending this Thanksgiving in Hawaii having a little vacation and they seem pretty well. Their children, Wayne and Randi, are keeping house and are getting real good at it. I hope to go south at Christmas time and no doubt will find many changes over the years. Carol Ann Melle is graduated from the University and is learning to be a teacher of the deaf. James Jr is thru school and may become a professor. Ruthie and Jim are fine and still in law business at Riverside. Helen's youngest, Susan, is home from Spain and is now studying at San Diego to become a teacher of Spanish and English. Brad is in the Reporting business and seems to be real.

Yes, this is a winter (1969) scene right out of Washington! As this year we have bad news about Eda. With her Senile Psychosis she was pretty good until about the First of October when she seemed to back up rapidly. Now she is at the Issaquah Villa, a real nice convalescent place. She gets fine care and if any good can be done for her they will do it. Her chances of coming home soon appear very slim. Other things are going well. Charles and Deeds went to Hawaii for two weeks as his doc told him to take it easy. Wayne and Randi kept house while they were gone, Helen and Ruthie are both in good shapes now. Jimie and Ruthie are busy and James Jr graduates this year and Carol Ann also. This year she has been working at "digs" where she has prospected for artifacts and any signs of previous civilizations. Ed and Helen have a new house at Corono and it is up high enough to escape the snow. Their youngest is back from Spain after a fine year. Gretchen and her husband Bill are of all things, living on a farm just north of San Francisco. And their boy, Brad, is

Dear Folks: This 1971 picture show roadway from I-90 down the little slope to our home. Eda is in Villa at Issaquah and there in improvement after two years. She is real content; they take good care of her and almost every day one of the family is down to try to make some break for her. We can still take her for rides in her wheel chair. Ed Ritter runs his daily newspaper; Helen, who has been up here for ten days, is busier than ever. She surely has enough projects going!! And they enjoy their new home so much. But their children are all gone now. Susan is teaching in San Diego; Brad, who recently married a real grand girl, is in Illinois and looks after the school teachers there and edits their paper and we venture that is some job!! And Gretchen, Helen's oldest, is on the farm, the main crop of which is children. The second is expected as a Christmas present. Her husband, Bill, now has his own electronics business. The Terhunes are pretty well with Charles at Boeings and evidently over his heart trouble; Deeds running the house and both Randi and Wayne in school and doing

Snoqualmie Falls Park. The Puget Sound Power and Light Company maintains this recreation park for your pleasure and convenience. Snoqualmie Falls are 268 feet high; the two power plants here generate 30,000 horsepower. The company also operated thirteen other hydro-electric and seven steam-generating plants, giving it a total capacity of 243,445 horsepower. It serves more than 500 communities, extending from Bellingham on the north, to the Columbia River on the south, and eastward to Wenatchee. It maintains over 6,000 miles of lines, and furnishes electric service to over 131,000 patrons. Its annual payroll exceeds $5,500,000, and it paid this year of $1,000,000 in taxes to help share the tax-burden of this district. Over 14,500 of its customers own over $15,000,000 of its securities - true public ownership. This company has always maintained an adequate supply of power well in advance of the needs of the District which it serves. It has been one of the chief factors in bringing new industries and new pay-rolls to Western Washington. We hope you will assist us in keeping this park attractive; and if you

Print, Photographic Hop Drying Shed, Snoqualmie Hop Ranch, 1889. LN Parker, Fall City, King Co, WN. 4 1/4 x 6 1/2" grey cardboard; 3 1/2 x 5" picture mounted on cardboard. The picture shows a hop drying shed. The roof is a hip style, and the shed is high with no windows. There are 3 ventilators on the roof. There is a barn at the left with a chute that goes to the door of the shed; the door is high near the roof. Mt Si can be seen in the background. Another chute from higher in the barn, slopes to a door near the base of the shed.

Print, Photographic Picnic group on beach by boathouse. 3 1/2 x 5 1/2" postcard (dark) The picture is of several people on the beach preparing for a picnic. There is a man kneading the wood laid out for a fire. He has a beard and is wearing a hat. Another lady is kneeling and is holding a cup in her hands. The man at the left, standing, is wearing a suit and hat, as is the man second from right. Five ladies are standing. They are all wearing long skirts with light colored blouses. The boathouse and a large boat can be seen behind the people. The river is on the other side of the boathouse. Trees are on the hills in the background.

Print, Photographic Maloney's Big Fir Stump, North Bend, Wash. Siegrist 284. Man with horse on stump. 3 1/2 x 5 1/2" postcard 284 Photo by Siegrist, North Bend, Wash. The picture is of a man standing on the stump. He has an unsaddled horse next to him and is holding the reins of the bridle in his hands. The man is wearing dark trousers with a white shirt and suspenders. He has arm covers that reach to his upper arm. The big stump has been cut straight across and has Maloney's Big Fir Stump printed in white around the front edge. There is a team of horses behind the stump, at the left, and a one-horse cart at the right. There is a white dog at the left.

Print, Photographic Fall City School Class. 2 1/2 x 4 1/2" black and white snapshot (faded) The picture shows eight students standing on the steps in front of the school, 5 girls and 3 boys. The girls are wearing long dresses and the boys are dressed in suits or with jackets. Elsie Parker and Helen Bonnell are included in the students in the picture. The students are probably teenagers. The front of the school is white and shows the bricks of the building around the entryway.
The Fall City School, 1900. Prim Grade. 7 x 10" cardboard mounted. Grey 5 x 8" picture. The students are standing on the steps in front of the school. Most of the front row are girls; they are all wearing ankle length skirts or dresses, some of the larger girls in the front row are holding a large flag. The back row is all boys. There are two doors behind the students, some distance apart. Each door has a transom above it.

Minnie and Joe Boxley. c 1898. Case and Draper. Skagway, Alaska. From June Shinkle Gaspurovich. This is a picture of Minnie and Joe Boxley, who were early settlers of North Bend- I think they came from Michigan in early days. They went to Alaska during the Gold Rush and did quite well. Mr Boxley worked in a sawmill near Snoqualmie and Mrs Boxley at one time had a tailoring shop in Seattle and did dress making all her life. Joe died when he was in his 90s, also when she died. After Joe's death, Mrs Boxley moved from the family home (where the Sea-First Bank is now- 110 No Bendigo) to the town of Snoqualmie- then later came back to North Bend. Boxley Creek was named after them besides the family home-they had a ranch near 68 St. They were close friends of my parents- Ira and Lydia Shinkle.

Boxley Ranch near Mount Si with Joe, left and Minnie Boxley, second from right. 3 1/2 x 5 1/2" postcard The picture is of a home in the woods. The house has shake siding and a covered porch. The cover for the porch is made of length of wide boards that are from the front to the back. They are supported by three poles from the floor of the porch. There is a double window in the peak at the front of the house. Joe Boxley is at the left and Minnie Boxley is second from the right. Mr Boxley is standing on the porch. There is a dog by him. Another man is sitting on the edge of the porch and hold the head of an antlered deer. Another man is standing beside Mrs. Boxley. The yard has a heavy growth of weeds and grass.

I think these are pretty good action pictures when one considers the negatives were not as fast in those days and the clouds were usually hanging pretty low. This was taken, however, on a fairly clear day. The steam locomotive pulling the train is rounding a curve at Laconia, WA, Snoqualmie Pass. The snow is very deep; it has been plowed. Excursion from Everett at North Bend, Wash., Apr. 24, 1912. Milwaukee Railroad passengers. Car in intersection of First Ave and Bendigo St. Cascadia hotel on right, Maloney's Livery across street. This was known as the "Get Acquainted Excursion" and was put together by the Everett and Snohomish Commercial Clubs in an effort to have all of the towns along the new Milwaukee branch line get to know each other. It was a strictly stag affair (all men only) and was run on April 24th, 1912, just three days after passenger service was inaugurated on the line. On the return trip the train stopped at Tokul siding to serve lunch to the crowd and most of them hiked the trail to see Snoqualmie Falls while the train waited. City street of North Bend. Old touring car surrounded by many men and boys and a few women and girls. Caption on bottom of photo says: "Excursion From Everett at North Bend Wash., April 24, 1912." Building at right has a railed porch on second floor with a number of people there. Also a sign for Olympia Beer. Power poles on right side of the street. Building across the street is Maloney's Livery Stable.

Maloney’s Grove, Composite. Recreation Room and Dance Hall, Merry-Go-Round, Modern Cabins, Safe Playground, On the River, Sleeping Room, Fishing. Entrance to Maloney’s Grove, Gentle Saddle Horse. The first picture is of the Recreation Room and the Dance Hall. It is a long building with a porch landing on the front. The front has a door with windows on each side. The next picture is of children riding on the merry-go-round. It has a center pole and the children ride the platform suspended from the center rails. No. 3 is a picture of one of the modern cabins in the camp. The next picture is of the Safe Playground with children. One is riding a horse swing. The next picture is of two girls in bathing suits playing in the river. The sleeping room is the subject of the next picture. It shows the bed and the interior of a room. A man fishing is in the picture at the left. The center large picture shows the ENTRANCE TO MALONEY’S GROVE. There is a car in the gate. The gate is built to look like a log barn. The last picture is of a man riding a gentle saddle horse.

Men working in interior of Snoqualmie Falls Lumber Co Planing Mill. 5 x 7" black and white glossy; mounted on 6 x 8" cardboard #239. The picture shows the inside of a large shed that has many support poles and rafters. There are several machines with the men that operate them across the center of the building. The lumber is in rows on each side of the machines. The finished lumber on one side of the machine and the finished piled in racks on the other. The pipes of the sawdust blowers can be seen at each machine.
Man driving Storage Battery Tractor at Snoqualmie Falls Lumber Co Mill. 5 x 7 black and white glossy. The picture is of a 3-wheeled tractor pulling a two-wheel trailer that is loaded with lumber. The tractor has a metal shield in front with the steering wheel rod coming from the floor vertically. There is one front wheel and two back. They are made of metal with a narrow rubber tire. The wheels of the trailer are made in the same way. There is a man driving the tractor and his seat is a box bolted to the tractor. Railroad tracks are beside the tractor, and there is a large building in the background.

Snoqualmie Falls Lumber Co Mill loading platform. 6 x 8 mounted on cardboard (Faded) No. 231. The loading platform is in a covered shed with the beams and rafters showing. There is a row of windows near the roof. The platform is raised; there are several railroad tracks with the sidings at a lower level.

Cutting of 10' log at Snoqualmie Falls Lumber Co. Harold Keller photo. 6 x 8 mounted on cardboard (Faded) No. 234. The picture is of a group of men sitting and standing on the steps in front of the lumber mill. Several of the men are holding award certificates and plaques. The majority of the men are wearing work clothes and hats or caps. One man in the front row is wearing a suit; another standing in the back row has a suit. The large building has steps along the side that lead to the landing on which some of the men are standing. There is a window with several panes at the left and double window behind the man at the right. There are barrels supporting the planks that form the steps on which the men are sitting.

Mountain Tree Farm Co Office. Cedar Falls. 5 x 7 black and white glossy. There is a sign at the side of the building MOUNTAIN TREE FARM CO. BEN A. THOMAS, INC. The building is a long, neat building with windows along the entire side. The entryway is covered and has an archway. There are mailboxs in the foreground. They are covered with deep snow as is the roof of the building. The building was the former Cedar Falls School. Snow covered mountains can be seen in the background.

Greetings from North Bend, King Co, Wash, North Bend Studio, Wash. 1029: North Bend, Wash April 26, 1912 Miss Nora Branam La Mesa, Calif. These pictures may make you homesick. I went to the dancing club last night they have great times. Yesterday there was an excursion here from Monroe, Everett and Snohomish on the Milwaukee. Over 400 men here, all men. Carol reól last night, Carrie is sure some glad that you can send the flowers, it sure does look suspicious, but I don't think there is anything very serious about it. Uncle and Tid woke up home all day Sunday. I was not home long enough to hear him say whether or not he was lonesome here alone. I am staying with one of the Mrs Lederle's, being nurse girl. Cedar Falls Hotel, James Potts, Prop. 3 1/2 x 5 1/2" postcard The picture is of a two story wood building with porches on the first and the second floor. There are no steps to the ground from the upper porch. Both porches have a wood railing. The building is 1a, unpainted with a false front. There is a large sign on the front of the building. Two people are standing on the upper porch and a group of people are on the lower one. Wooden steps lead to the lower porch. The yard is overgrown with bushes. The hotel vanished in the flood caused by the break in the dam; now under Rattlesnake Lake.

Snoqualmie Lumber & Shingle Co, Snoqualmie, Wash. Siegrist 113, North Bend. 3 1/2 x 5 1/2" postcard There are tree stumps in the foreground. A railroad track runs in front of the mill. There is a square wooden tower by the tracks. Behind the tower is a large building. A large smokestack can be seen but has no smoke. The smoke seems to be from a lower level. There is a high trestle behind the mill. At the right of the picture is a long, flat topped building. Trees are in the background.

Northern Pacific Railroad Station, Snoqualmie, Wash. Siegrist 119, North Bend. 3 1/2 x 5 1/2" postcard The picture is of a large building with a design of fancy wooden railing along the top of the roof. There is a round dormer window and a dormer with two windows. Near the front, on the roof, is a tower with a round pointed steeple. The overhang of the roof covers the walkway around the building. It is supported by fancy wooden poles. A large hall can be seen at the right.

Excursion from Everett at North Bend, Wash. This was known as the "Get Acquainted Excursion" and was put together by the Everett and Snohomish Commercial Clubs in an effort to have all of the towns along the new Milwaukee branch line get to know each other. It was a strictly stag affair (all men only) and was run on April 24th, 1912, just three days after passenger service was inaugurated on the line. On the return trip the train stopped at Tokul siding to serve lunch to the crowd and most of them hiked the trail to see Snoqualmie Falls while the train waited.

Print, Photographic Portrait of Mrs. Grace Clouston who ran a beauty salon in Snoqualmie. Frank Jacobs Photo- Seattle July 2, 1964 - copy of newspaper clipping glued to print cover Mrs Grace Clouston to Move From Valley Mrs Grace Clouston, who for the past 33 years has operated a beauty salon in Snoqualmie, is leaving the Valley. She has sold her home and is moving to Bremerton to be near her three sons. Prior to opening her shop in Snoqualmie Mrs Clouston was an instructor at May Helen's School of Marcelling in Seattle. In leaving the Valley Mrs Clouston said she will miss her many friends and patrons who have made her years here so enjoyable.

From here the tourist may avail himself of numerous pleasure trips. One of these, which should not be omitted by those who in the love of nature commune with her visible forms, is an excursion up the Snohomish River to Snoqualmie Falls, which, though not imposing in magnitude, is a marvelously beautiful combination of rocks, forest and dashing waters. Provided with luncheon and fishing tackle, no more delightful outing could be desired than a day on the brink of this grand cataract.

Speakers. was one of the most passionate concerning the Snoqualmie Falls. He cites Marysville resident Jeff Gipson for lacking a fishing license. Lantiegne was patrolling the Snoqualmie River, one of several state streams affected by new regulations concerning steelhead fishing.

Puget Power's license renewal Monday night at the F.E.R.C. hearing on behalf of the Snoqualmie Indian Tribe (University of Washington) speaks on regulations concerning steelhead fishing.

Flooding in Wilderness Rim.

4439 SE 171st, North Bend, WA.
February 14, 1996.

More about the storm from AMS100:

Flooding over the Pacific Northwest is usually the result of warm, moist subtropical southwesterly flow interacting with the coastal and Cascade mountains. Since the flow typically originates near Hawaii, this weather pattern is dubbed the "Pineapple Express." During the winter of 1995–96, exceptionally heavy seasonal precipitation (125%–175% of the mean) occurred over the Pacific Northwest. The most significant event of that winter took place on 5–9 February 1996, during which many rivers of Oregon and Washington experienced the worst flooding in 30 years, with the Columbia and Willamette Rivers rising as much as 10–20 feet above flood stage. Eight deaths were directly attributed to the floods, over 30,000 residents were forced from their homes, and damage approached 500 million dollars. Prior to this event subfreezing temperatures and a significant snowpack were present at relatively low elevations. A series of much warmer synoptic systems moved...

The Big Log at North Bend Washington. 14 Feet in Diameter. BF Kelley without jacket. Log on display near school buildings. Ft tree grew at edge of North Bend in back of Joe Wotruba residence (later Kelley Kerr's house) near Silver Creek. Log approximately 14' in diameter and 80' long. Cut by Jose Logging Co. Sent to Chicago World's Fair in 1898 and used as a flagpole loaded on 2 flat cars. Log cut in right-of-way of Milwaukee Railroad tracks. Log displayed supported by cement blocks and logs. Favorite spot for picture taking of families and visitors. Large log resting on log blocks. Base of tree was 14' in diameter. There are four men standing at base. Two are standing on the ground and two stand on the snag at center that were left when tree was felled. Men wear suits and hats. Man on ground does not wear suit. Standing at butt end, lower left is Fremont Kelley (or his brother Ben Kelley). Top right, Elijah Tait. Trees in background in distance in far right. White sign posted on side of tree and several small pieces of paper and white sign at upper edge of butt end cut.

Excursion From Everett at North Bend, Wash. April 24, 1912. Gertrude Mueller far left side. The woman in the long coat with two others. One of the others is Hilda Lawson Mueller. This was known as the "Get Acquainted Excursion" and was put together by the Everett and Snohomish Commercial Clubs in an effort to have all of the towns along the new Milwaukee branch line get to know each other. It was a strictly stag affair (all men only) and was run on April 24th, 1912, just three days after passenger service was inaugurated on the line. On the return trip the train stopped at Tokul siding to serve lunch to the crowd and most of them hiked the trail to see Snoqualmie Falls while the train waited.

During the summer of 1899, Seattle pioneer David Denny supervised the improvement of 27 miles of wagon road through Snoqualmie Pass, from North Bend, Washington, to the south end of Lake Keechelus. Between the beginning of June and the end of September, workers blasted and moved rocks, built bridges, resurfaced parts of the old road with logs and relocated the road completely where necessary. This 1899 photo shows David Denny sitting outside his cabin near Lake Keechelus. He lived at the cabin during the summer he worked on the Snoqualmie Pass wagon road. The cabin was near some of the Denny family's mining claims. Old gentleman with beard sitting on stool in front of cabin. He has his gun in hand, wears hat, dark shirt and suspenders. Cabin made of logs with roof extending to cover porch. There is wash tub beside porch and bench in front of porch. Bench covered with articles that appear to be a bedroll, canvas, etc. There is a hat. |

Railroad Engine in Snoqualmie. When this picture was taken in 1895, the engine was on its way to the junk yard. The engine came to the Valley in 1889, to serve the Snoqualmie Mill that stood across the river from Snoqualmie. The mill burned in 1895. The old engine pulled a train from the mill to the orchard. Dio Reinig recalls that Mrs. Alfred Coppers who lived in Fall City used to ride to school on this train. Newspaper picture on cardboard, showing old engine used at Snoqualmie Mill that stood across the river from Snoqualmie. Picture taken in 1895, engine came to valley in 1889. Lofts brothers, (LEFT) Albert Lofts, (MIDDLE) John Lofts, (RIGHT) Robert Lofts. John was early settler in Snoqualmie WA 1880 and 1888. Albert and Robert came to Illinois. Their sister was Margaret Pitt. Albert Lofts came to the United States in about 1912 and settled in Illinois. John Lofts was an early settler of Snoqualmie. Mrs. Robert Lofts settled in Alton, Illinois. The three men are brothers of Mrs. Margaret Pitt, Middlesex, England. John Lofts gave the land for the Snoqualmie School to be built upon, as a gift. The land was a grant by the government to him. John came to the United States in 1871 and settled in Snoqualmie in 1888. After leaving England, he did not correspond with his family until about 1891. He built a little house in Snoqualmie and lived there for some years. Possibly worked at the Snoqualmie Falls Mill – came to North Bend occasionally "for a change of scene." After some years he returned to England and stayed for a short time, then returned to Snoqualmie. Made a second trip to England with the thought of staying the remaining years of his life, lived with a cousin awhile, then decided...

Andrew Craig Magnuson: I think that's about a 1906 Bronchoscopist steam derrick, manufactured by the Brown Hoisting Machinery Company, of Cleveland, Ohio, or a similar vintage derrick manufactured by Industrial Works, of Bay City, Michigan. The only C.M. & St. P.R. equipment register that I could find only lists it as Derrick X21. That oval shaped builder's plate may be readable under magnification. The picture is of a large piece of machinery with a crane with a large hook. The machinery is mounted on a flat bed, on the railroad track. C. M. & St. P. R. of Washington, No. X21 is painted on the side of the machinery. There are several men standing in the road bed, and the large hooks on the crane is lifting a very large stump. There are tall trees along the road bed.

Laconia. CM&PS RY. Rotary snow plow, Laconia, Snoqualmie Pass. The picture is of a large rotary snow plow mounted on the front of a steam locomotive. It is stopped in front of a large water tank used for filling the boilers of the locomotive. There are three men standing at the right and another man at the left. The snow is very deep with large banks along the side of the tracks. The tracks still have snow on them. Snow and clouds block all of the view of the mountains. Taken during the winter of 1912-13 and the rotary outfit is taking water at the Laconia tank. The blade is actually turning much slower than the image would suggest, due to the exposure time. In cold weather it was necessary to keep the wheel turning so that it wouldn't freeze up. If it did freeze, it was often necessary to build a fire below it to get it in motion again. Excursion from Everett at North Bend, Wash. Apr. 24, 1912. This was known as the "Get Acquainted Excursion" and was put together by the Everett and Snohomish Commercial Clubs in an effort to have all of the towns along the new Milwaukee branch line get to know each other. It was a strictly stag affair (all men only) and was run on April 24th, 1912, just three days after passenger service was inaugurated on the line. On the return trip the train stopped at Tokul siding to serve lunch to the crowd and most of them hiked the trail to see Snoqualmie Falls while the train waited. Original: 8 x 10" black and white glossy. The picture is of a large group of people in the street in front of the Cascade Hotel. Some of them are standing on the porch of the hotel, and many of them are in the street. There is an old model Touring Car in the street that is drawing a lot of attention. Smith's Department Store, North Bend. Prop. Jay J. Smith, purchased March 1921. Formerly "Kash Savin' Store" owned by Tom Terhune. Located on NW Corner of N Bendigo St and W 2nd Ave. The store is a one story building with a covered sidewalk the full length of the store. Windows with small glass panes are the length of the store. There are two cars parked in the street, one facing each way. They are of the 1920 Model. This was originally known as the "Kash Savin' Store" and that name was engraved in the sidewalk just outside the corner entrance. The store was bought by Jay J. Smith of Alaska in March of 1921 from Tom Terhune. Business boomed; the store was enlarged and renamed as shown in the photo. Inherited with the store were the services and popularity of Mrs. Ethal Phillips, the jeweler's wife. She was a capable clerk, prominent in the local affairs, notably the Ladies Aid Society. Photo shows Jay J. Smith on left, Bob Tibbets' cashier and delivery truck and another sedan probably Edner's. NOTE: Store's reflection is in giant mud puddle on dirt road. The store was sold somewhere.
